From the desk of Pastor Mackie

Last month, Green Bay, Ashwaubenon, and Brown County hosted the National Football League draft for 2025. Players chosen in the draft have a better chance to play professionally in the NFL. Even for those who do not leverage their selection into a large pay day, being drafted is an honor that thousands of players can only dream about.

The Draft is a more sophisticated version of a common playground experience. Many of us can remember a time when deciding teams often involved standing around while captains took turns picking someone for their teams. A few could feel good about being chosen early; those chosen later sometimes learned to wonder why anybody would ever want to choose them. Many earnestly desire to be chosen, but feel left out.

Those who want to be worthy to be chosen by God run straight into the reality expressed by Ecclesiastes 7:20: "There is not a righteous man on earth who does what is right and never sins." (NIV). On our own, we could never qualify for the heavenly draft. But God "wants all men to be saved" (1 Timothy 2:4 NIV). So he chose one rejected by men (1 Peter 2:4) to provide a foundation of righteousness for including sinners in the kingdom of God. So through the apostle Peter, God declares "You are a chosen people, a royal priesthood, a holy nation." God selects sinners who deserve to be excluded to be justified (Romans 8:33) and included in the spiritual house he is building to declare his praises (1 Peter 2:9). It's as if the best player insists that we be included on his team.

Some of those drafted by teams in the NFL probably said something like "I'm just happy to be here. I just hope to help the team the best I can." Those who rejoice to be chosen by God may wonder how they can contribute to the club God has brought them into. One way is to be wrapped in the team outfit as Scripture encourages: "As God's chosen and beloved, be clothed in compassion, kindness, humility, gentleness and patience." In that way, those chosen by God let their lights shine so those watching can praise one who drafted them.
